In the United States, growth has been firming up, helped by improving labour and housing market conditions. In the Euro area, economic conditions have seen some pick-up in recent months, supported by lower crude prices and the depreciation in the euro as well as increased bank lending. In India, the macroeconomic environment is expected to improve in 2015-16, with fiscal policy gearing to an investment-led growth strategy and monetary policy using available room for accommodation.

The outlook for Indian cotton textiles, especially home textiles, continues to be positive. Certain structural changes in favour of India have prompted customers to increase their textile and clothing sourcing from the country. This has helped Indian players gain market share in the global textile arena.
